onemarkets Pictet Global Opportunities Allocation Fund - MH-CZK

LUXEMBOURG UCITS-SICAV

March 2025

FOR PRIVATE INVESTORS

ISIN: LU2595011649

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Sub-Fund is actively managed. The investment objective is to achieve medium term capital growth mainly through the direct investment in equities and investment grade fixed income bonds of issuers from OECD countries or indirectly through and investments in shares/units in UCITS.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Sub-Fund combines a thematic approach and a quantitative equity selection approach within a multi-asset allocation strategy, unrelated to benchmark constraints. Both thematic and quantitative approaches to equity selection are based on a fundamental analysis of companies, even though they use different drivers. The combination of the two approaches is an efficient solution to ensure a more stable long-term performance. The target direct exposure to equities is at 60% most of the time. The asset allocation and the portfolio management activity will have a strategic perspective, but it will also be possible to change it in an opportunistic and tactical manner. Investment views based on market conditions can be taken either by reallocating exposure between asset classes or through the use derivatives acting as overlay to modify exposures to the different asset classes comprising the investment universe, or a mix of both. The investment process integrates ESG factors based on proprietary and third-party research to evaluate investment risks and opportunities. The proportion of the Sub-Fund's portfolio subject to ESG analysis is at least 90% of the net assets or number of issuers. When selecting investments, the Sub-Fund adopts a best in class approach which seeks to invest in securities of issuers with low sustainability risks while avoiding those with high sustainability risks, reducing the investment universe by at least 20%. This strategy applies an additional exclusion policy relating to direct investment in companies and countries and that are deemed incompatible with Pictet Asset Management's approach to responsible investment. PERFORMANCE AND RISK MEASURES

Performance¹ as at 31. March 2025

Source: Structured Invest S.A. Past performance including all fees of share class MH-CZK at sub-fund level is calculated according to the BVI method (www.bvi.de), excluding any entry and exit fees, and the reinvested dividend for the accumulation class. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. Future performance is subject to taxation, which depends on the personal situation of each investor and may change in the future.

RISK PROFILE

The historical data used to calculate the summary risk indicator may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of the sub-fund. There is no guarantee that the risk category illustrated above will remain unchanged. A classification of the sub-fund in the lower category does not automatically mean that the investment is risk-free.

Risk classification of the sub-fund

The sub-fund’s strategy is to invest in different assets and derivative instruments. Due to the relatively high volatility of these investments, the fund is classified in risk category 3.

Other relevant risks

The credit rating of the issuers of the securities held by the sub-fund and its strategy may deteriorate over time. In the unlikely event that the issuer of a security is forced to declare itself insolvent, the value of the securities could fall significantly. This could lead to a reduction in the market price of the sub-fund that exceeds the general market fluctuations.

The sub-fund’s performance and the ability to buy, sell or redeem fund units may be hampered by economic developments and uncertainty caused by political events, changes in government policy, restrictions on capital flows and changes to the regulatory framework. Events such as natural disasters and political unrest can also have negative repercussions.

Under unfavourable market conditions, it may be difficult for the sub-fund to sell the securities held without incurring significant losses, or it may even be impossible to sell certain securities.

In this extreme case, it is possible that the sub-fund will experience payment difficulties, which could prevent investors from redeeming all their units immediately and without incurring significant losses. The sub-fund may perform derivative transactions and is therefore exposed to the risk of a counterparty failing to honour its contractual obligations. We reduce counterparty risk on derivative transactions by requiring our contractual counterparty to provide minimum collateral, as stipulated by the relevant regulatory requirements. The sub-fund may incur losses due to malfunctions or inadequate internal procedures and systems, operational risks or external events. This includes the possibility of incurring losses due to a breach of applicable regulatory requirements, including losses caused by changes to the regulatory framework on existing transactions. Derivatives are subject to specific risks arising from the “leverage effect”, which amplifies the change in the market price of a derivative compared with the actual change in the market price of its underlying. The risk of loss increases as the amount of leverage of the derivative increases. Risks not sufficiently taken into account in the indicator include the following: equity risk, bond risk, commodity risk, risk arising from multi-asset investments, sustainability risk, risks related to investment funds, risk of debt securities, convertible bonds, contingent convertible (CoCo) bonds, hybrid bonds and bonds with a rating below investment grade or no rating, early repayment and extension risk, derivatives and counterparty risk, short position risk, high leverage risk, currency risk, geopolitical risk and emerging markets risk. For more in-depth information on the sub-fund’s risk profile, please refer to the risk section of the fund’s prospectus.
